

GLOBAL STUDIES ELECTIVE COURSES (as of May 2017)

Global Studies students choose from a wide variety of courses each semester that can satisfy the Global Studies major's requirement for elective courses. The following list shows the courses that have satisfied this requirement in the past. Note that some of these courses are offered infrequently. With the approval of their major advisor, Global Studies majors may identify other courses not included on this list to satisfy the elective requirement. Additionally, special topics courses offered by departments or programs may satisfy the elective requirement. Please note that the same course may be listed below multiple times—under a program and a department, or only once, so check in more than one place if you expect to see a class that is not here.
