Asian Studies

Website: http://asia.cas2.lehigh.edu/

The Asian Studies Program at Lehigh offers an interdisciplinary home for the study of Asia. Drawing on our faculty strengths across a wide range of humanities and social science fields, the program focuses on the major cultural areas of East Asia, Southeast Asia, South Asia, and the Himalayan region, exploring histories, languages, religions, societies, politics, literature, the arts, and media, past and present. In their research and teaching, our program faculty expand understanding of Asian societies in global context, and deepen awareness of Asian and Asian American histories and experiences within the United States. The Asian Studies Program gives undergraduates in any college within Lehigh an opportunity to study the dynamic and rich cultural heritages of Asian societies, and to understand their impact on the past, present, and future of our world. Students have the option of choosing to minor or major in Asian Studies. The Asian Studies program requirements are designed to make it easy for students to combine a minor or a double major in Asian Studies with other programs at Lehigh. Coursework in Asian Studies enhances student preparation for a range of careers, in fields including business and finance, health, journalism, media, international relations, politics, environmental sciences, literature, the arts, and engineering.

MAJOR IN ASIAN STUDIES

The Bachelor of Arts major in Asian Studies offers students the choice of a standard or honors track. The standard major requires a minimum of 32 credits. The Honors track requires a minimum of 35 credits. All students must reach Intermediate II level in an Asian language, participate in an Asian International Experience, and complete courses in categories A to D as listed below. The academic advisor is the director of the Asian Studies Program. Students may also request an advisor from among the Asian Studies faculty.

A. One Foundational Core Course

Students choose 1 course from the Foundational Core courses. Foundational Core courses introduce students to the study of Asian Societies:

B. Depth Concentration

Students choose 3-4 courses (12-16 credits) in Asian Humanities and Social Sciences.

C. Advanced Asian Studies Course

Students choose one advanced Asian Studies course at the 200 level or above. This may include an advanced Asian language course.

D. Asian Studies Electives

Students choose 1-2 additional elective courses (3-8 credits).

E. One Asian International Experience

Asian Studies majors are eligible for Asian Studies travel support if they participate in a Lehigh-approved program. After declaring the major, students will meet with the Study Abroad advisor to design their Asian International Experience. Students may also choose to take part of their Asian Studies course credits through Study Abroad.

F. Senior Capstone (credit load varies depending on whether student chooses Honors or standard track).

Pre-Capstone (2-4 credits in Fall); Capstone (2-4 credits in Spring) 4-8

Students are encouraged to build on earlier coursework to choose an option under supervision of a faculty member. Options include: a portfolio of revised Asian Studies coursework with a reflective essay (non-Honors); a traditional research thesis (Honors option only); or an internship or other special project (with Program Director permission).

Minimum number of credits 32

1. Courses in Chinese, Japanese or other Asian language may apply as program electives with approval of the Program Director.

2. In consult with the Asian Studies Director, students may choose from a wide variety of Asian Studies courses each semester. Other suitable courses, including but not limited to courses at LVAIC or other approved institutions in the United States or courses in approved study abroad programs in Asia may be substituted with the Director's approval.

3. If study abroad is difficult academically or financially, other arrangements can be made upon major advisor's approval.

4. Students enroll in ASIA 399 twice for a total of 4-8 credits: first, to complete the pre-capstone requirement and again to complete the senior capstone project.

MINOR IN ASIAN STUDIES

The minor in Asian Studies is intended to complement a student’s major field of study and it is flexible according to individual needs. Students are free to survey the field broadly or concentrate in a specific area such as Chinese or Japanese studies. The minor comprises a minimum of 4 courses (16 credits) in Asian studies, chosen from an approved list in consultation with the director of the Asian Studies Program.

While students minoring in Asian Studies are encouraged to study languages, only 8 credits of language study count towards the Asian Studies minor. Students interested only in language study are encouraged to minor in Chinese or Japanese language (see MLL (http://catalog.lehigh.edu/coursesprogramsandcurricula/ artsandsciences/modernlanguagesandliteratures/)).

Core and Elective COURSES

Each semester, a complete list of ASIA course offerings can be found on the Asian Studies web site or in the Office of Interdisciplinary Programs, Williams Hall, Suite 101. Other courses approved by the program director.
